ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED UI LAW CHANGE
Amendments to Drug Testing Statutes

1. Description of Proposed Change

The 2015-2017 Budget Bill (Act 55) directs the Department to create, by rule, a program to test unemployment insurance applicants for controlled substances, to create a program for employers to submit the results of pre-employment drug tests to the Department, to provide treatment for controlled substance abuse, and to provide job skills assessments.¹

The Department has promulgated an emergency rule for the pre-employment drug testing, drug treatment, and job skills assessment provisions and the department anticipates the final draft of the permanent rule will be effective in June. The Department has begun to draft, but has not yet promulgated, the rule regarding the testing of unemployment insurance applicants for controlled substances (i.e. occupational drug testing).

During the rulemaking process, the Department has identified statutory changes that, if enacted, would ease the administration of the drug testing and treatment programs and would ensure that Wisconsin law conforms to federal requirements. The Department proposes the following statutory changes:

- Federal law provides that states may only test “applicants” for unemployment insurance for controlled substances.² “Applicant” is defined in federal law as “an individual who files an initial claim for unemployment compensation under State law. Applicant excludes an individual already found initially eligible and filing a continued claim.”³ The

D17-10
Amendments to Drug Testing Statutes

Department proposes to amend Wisconsin’s occupational drug testing statute to refer to “applicants” instead of “claimants” in order to clearly align state law with this federal definition. This will ensure conformity to federal requirements.

- Confirming that the Department shall pay the reasonable cost of drug testing applicants under the occupational drug testing program.
- Amending the privacy statute to ensure that all information related to drug testing and prescription medication is confidential. The current statute specifies that drug treatment information is confidential.⁴ Existing administrative code provisions provide general confidentiality protections⁵ but a statutory change would ensure specific protections regarding drug testing results and prescriptions.
- Limiting employers’ civil liability under state law for submission of pre-employment drug testing information to the Department. This may encourage employer participation in the program.
- The Legislature appropriated $250,000 annually to the Department “to conduct testing for controlled substances, for the provision of substance abuse treatment, and for related expenses under s. 108.133.” The Department recommends amending the appropriation statute to confirm that the Department may use this funding to screen unemployment benefit applicants in order to determine whether there is a reasonable suspicion that a claimant has engaged in the unlawful use of controlled substances.

⁵ Wis. Admin. Code § DWD 149.02(1).

Amendments to Drug Testing Statutes

Section 108.133(3)(e) of the statutes is amended to read:

(e) All information relating to an claimant's individual's declining to take a test for the presence of controlled substances, testing positive for the unlawful use of controlled substances, prescription medication, medical records, and enrollment and participation in the substance abuse treatment program under this chapter shall, subject to and in accordance with any rules promulgated by the department, be confidential and not subject to the right of inspection or copying under s. 19.35 (1).

Section 108.133(4)(c) of the statutes is created to read:

(c) Any employing unit that, in good faith, submits the results of a positive test or notifies the department that an individual declined to submit to a test under par. (a) is immune from civil liability for its acts or omissions with respect to the submission of the positive test results or the notification to the department that the individual declined to submit to the test.

Section 108.19(1s)(a)5. of the statutes is created to read:

5. Amounts transferred from the appropriation under s. 20.445(1)(aL).

3. Effects of Proposed Change

- a. Policy. This proposal may result in increased employer participation in the pre-employment drug testing program. This proposal ensures that individuals' medical and drug testing information is kept confidential. Under this proposal, the Department will have more flexibility to use the funds appropriated to it.
- b. Administrative. Staff will need to be trained on the proposed changes.
- c. Fiscal. A fiscal estimate is attached.

4. State and Federal Issues

There are no known federal conformity issues with this proposal. The Department recommends that any changes to the unemployment insurance law be sent to the U.S. Department of Labor for conformity review. The Department believes that this proposal will ensure that Wisconsin law better aligns with federal requirements.

5. Proposed Effective/Applicability Date

This proposal would be effective with other changes made as part of the agreed bill cycle.

FISCAL ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED LAW CHANGE

UI Trust Fund Impact:

These are technical changes and would not impact the UI Trust Fund.

IT and Administrative Impact:

These are technical changes and would not have an IT or Administrative impact.

Summary of Proposal:

During the rulemaking process, the Department has identified statutory changes that, if enacted, would ease the administration of the drug testing and treatment programs and would ensure that Wisconsin law conforms to federal requirements. The Department proposes the following statutory changes:

- Refer to “applicants” instead of “claimants” in order to clearly align state law with this federal definition. This will ensure conformity to federal requirements.
- Confirm that the Department shall pay the reasonable cost of drug testing applicants under the occupational drug testing program.
- Amending the privacy statute to ensure that all information related to drug testing and prescription medication is confidential. The current statute specifies that drug treatment information is confidential.⁶ Existing administrative code provisions provide general confidentiality protections⁷ but a statutory change would ensure specific protections regarding drug testing results and prescriptions.
- Limiting employers’ civil liability under state for submission of pre-employment drug testing information to the Department.
- The Legislature appropriated $250,000 annually to the Department “to conduct testing for controlled substances, for the provision of substance abuse treatment, and for related expenses under s. 108.133.” The Department recommends amending the appropriation statute to confirm that the Department may use this funding to screen unemployment benefit applicants in order to determine whether there is a reasonable suspicion that a claimant has engaged in the unlawful use of controlled substances.

Trust Fund Methodology:

These are technical changes and would not impact the UI Trust Fund. Though the proposal may provide an incentive for employers to submit pre-employment drug tests to the Department, it is uncertain at this time whether there will be any significant impact on the UI Trust Fund.

IT and Administrative Impact Methodology:

These are technical changes and would not have an IT or Administrative impact.
